

Review of: "Influence of Motivation on Pre-service Primary Teachers' Performance in Mathematics"

David Burghes<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Plymouth

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This could be an interesting article but I think more details about the differences between intrinsic and extrinsic motivation would be helpful.

This could be directly linked to the questions used in the two tests. Using exemplar questions from these tests would help clarify the differences and similarities between intrinsic and extrinsic motivation.

On a more minor issue the actual ages for Grade 6 and 8 pupils should be clarified as Grades are not universal.