I would like to thank you for your insightful paper. I really appreciate the thoroughness of the analysis and the rich list of up-to-date references. Here are a few suggestions for you to improve the quality of your research paper:

- 1- I think that the title can be reformulated into a more interesting and appealing form.
- 2- I believe that it is essential for the abstract to encompass the methodology that will be employed in one's research. The abstract should provide readers with a comprehensive understanding of the knowledge gap and the approach to be undertaken in order to address it.
- 3- Please be mindful of any grammatical errors, particularly when it comes to the utilization of verb tenses (most preferably), and when it comes to analysing facts, please stick to the simple present.
- 4- I also think that the introductory section is obnoxiously long when compared to the overall length of the article. I think that it should be shorter.
- 5- When it comes to the methodology section, I think that your methodology is not very well articulated, and you did not clarify whether you are opting for a qualitative approach or a quantitative approach or a mixed approach.
