Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article investigated the risk factors for mental illness in Nepal. The article has the following limitations-

1. Only anxiety and depression were included under mental illness.
2. The mental illness status was assessed using a single question to the respondent. A standardized questionnaire would have been ideal.
3. Details of logistic regression need to be included.
4. The putative reasons for the lack of association between mental illness and internal migration are not mentioned.
