

Review of: "Study of four families of the suborder Brachycera (Insecta: Diptera)"

Gilmar da Silva Nunes¹

¹ Instituto Federal Goiano

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript is adequately written and effectively describes the families under consideration. However, I recommend that the author provide a more robust explanation of the importance and relevance of these families in the introduction. The engagement of readers seems lacking. Furthermore, the conclusion does not effectively tie back to the stated objective. Additionally, the title appears subjective to me. I suggest some titles as bases below:

1. "An Overview of Four Brachycera Families: Ecology, Behavior, and Significance"
2. "Investigating the Role and Diversity of Four Brachycera Families in Dipteran Insects"