

Review of: "Artificial intelligence in the service of health and safety at work: Perspectives and challenges from now to 2035 - A prospective study"

Sampath Chinnam

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Comments

1. The alignments of the entire manuscript should be done properly. It is irregular and it should be corrected.
2. Plagiarism should be checked.
3. There are grammatical English errors, typo and spelling errors. Those should be rechecked throughout the manuscript.
4. In-text citations and reference section shall be rechecked according to the guidelines of the journal.
5. Overall manuscript was discussed in-detail
6. The conclusion section should not be in the divided paragraphs and it should be combined.

Report

The manuscript was well-prepared and it gives an insight to the researchers about 'Artificial intelligence in the service of health and safety at work: Perspectives and challenges from now to 2035'. It merits the journal. Hence, I would strongly recommend the manuscript to be published in the journal after addressing the aforementioned minor comments.