Dear author,

The research topic is interesting and has potential, but the work has several weaknesses, mainly a lack of good theoretical foundation and discussion of results. Furthermore, it is not clear what the contribution to new knowledge is. The article structure should be reorganized with:

- 1) A robust state of the art on the research question. Use the large number of updated and latest articles on the topic.
- 2) A presentation and discussion of the results based on the review of the state of the art and the comparison of your results with similar works, and explaining what your work brings new.
- 3) Minor revision: general revision of the article and improvement of English.

Kind Regards,

Andrezza Justino Gozzo
