

Review of: "Examining the Impact of Green Finance on Carbon Emissions in India through Energy Consumption Optimization"

Sudeshna Ghosh

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Title: If it is possible, the authors may attempt to a more specific title.
2. Abstract: The abstract should include at the beginning to provide a brief background of the study.
3. Introduction: The contributions of the study should be precisely highlighted.
4. The authors must justify in greater detail on the choice of the sample in the introduction
5. The data sources need to be appropriately cited in the paper - every reader should understand how to access these.
6. The working of the results is not demonstrated.
7. The authors need to provide the critical connections of the findings with practice, limitations, implications, and in-depth discussions of the findings for the practice and the society of the study to shed a light on future research.
8. Please proofread the manuscript before submitting the revision