Thank you for your excellent writing and contribution to the economy of Indonesia. I have read this paper, and there are some notes for authors so that your scientific writing becomes perfect. Here are some comments:

- 1) Each paragraph does not have a core topic discussed. In addition, some sentences at the beginning of the paragraph need to mention the subject first. We recommend that each paragraph discuss one core topic, and each paragraph should begin with a subject.
- 2) Note the number of sentences used in one paragraph because there are inconsistencies in many rulings used in one paragraph.
- 3) The abstract states that the research aims to examine the central role of Bank Plecit's business in driving the wheels of the economy and to seek explanations for why this bank is increasingly popular in the community. The analysis was carried out by combining the perspective of religious epistemology. However, the reason for using religious epistemology has yet to be highlighted in the background. Please add a description regarding why using a religious epistemological perspective
- 4) The results shown are very detailed and reasonable, but the researcher needs to indicate opportunities for future research/further research. Please add implicitly for future research / further research.
- 5) What makes this research different from other studies apart from the method used? Please explain more in the background regarding the novelty of your research.

Please make revisions properly so that your writing can be perfect. Good luck.
