The review remarks for this paper are:

- 1) The title of the article shouldn't start with the helping verb 'Using'. The title needs to be changed.
- 2) There are no structural components defined in the paper. All information is clubbed within a single section, and its name is also not given.
- 3) The scientific results and discussion are missing in the paper. The information appears only theoretical.
- 4) Grammatical errors need to be removed throughout the article.
- 5) Very few references are given in the paper, and citations are also not done properly.
