

Review of: "Health Outcome and Economic Growth: The Case of Malaria in Nigeria"

Ogadimma Arisukwu<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Landmark University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The title is apt and relevant.

The style of writing is good.

However, the problems of access and use of healthcare were not properly stated. The study did not differentiate rural from urban experiences in terms of access and health outcomes.

Currently, Nigeria has very high unemployment and inflation rates. How will these influence the study topic?

I suggest that the Health Belief Model should be reviewed as one of the theories. This theory shows how the health-seeking behaviour of people reflects health care usage and outcomes.

There is no discussion of findings where findings are interrogated with theories and literature.

There are no recommendations.

The Nigeria Health and Demographic Survey data should form one of the secondary sources of data consulted.