Thank you for your contribution. The paper was well-written, digestible, and easy to follow. Here are a few minor problems:

Methodology

More information is needed to make this section more robust for reproducibility. How were the results compiled? Was there any statistical analysis used to show correlation between the studies? Were there any methods used to detect errors?

Instrumentation Methods

It would help if you noted what instrumentation was used for the analysis of each parameter.

Otherwise, great job. The paper was very informative.
