

Review of: "Unravelling the Phytochemical and Pharmacognosy Contour of Traditional Medicinal Plant: Pterocarpus Marsupium Roxb"

F.O. Osunsanmi¹

¹ University of Zululand

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The review article was not well structured and marred with technical, grammatical and spelling errors. Likewise, the authors could provide adequate rationale for the research article in the introduction section. This query the academic merit of this manuscript. The authors need to format the manuscript in line with the author instruction guide.

The abstract need to be rewritten to address brief information, methodology , findings and conclusion.

The authors need to provide more relevant literature in the introduction section.

The authors should provide methodology (Search engine tool and key words for the review article).

The objectives of the study must clearly be stated and align with the overhaul write up.

Some statement in the conclusion section should be move to the introduction section. The authors should rewrite the conclusion. Conclusion should include summary of the findings and way forward.

The authors should check the references for uniformity and adhere to the format in author instruction guide.