The discussion in this paper is very interesting and important; however, the title is too long and confused. The author needs to have a focus on the title, same as the discussion in the paper. The author also needs to give more discussion on how the law of the indigenous people in Indonesia is connected with the Rohingya refugees' displacement in Indonesia. Furthermore, there must be court cases or any proof of action or enforcement from the authorities regarding the smuggling or trafficking activities that bring harm and economic loss to Indonesia. The author also needs to bring the proof or any evidence that shows how the Rohingya refugee can give a negative impact to Indonesia in the long run.
