The symptomatic expression of infection with the Omicron variant in Chinese patients; findings from the Clificol COVID-19 clinical case registry

The authors present de results of descriptive research about the symptomatology of patients with covid-19 in 366 patients.

The main think initial is that the authors say the analyzed 366 patients, but really in the flow chart it is not correct. I recommend to reviewed the flow chart.

The should include the limitation of the study and the approbation of IRB
