Dear Editor, thank you for your invitation to review the preprint entitled "Association of Dementia and Patient Outcomes among COVID-19 Patients: A Multi-center Retrospective Case-Control Study". I read the manuscript with interest and found it useful, relevant and timely. The study title, abstract and introduction are well-written. The authors have employed appropriate methods and reported all relevant essential components of methods needed for this type of study. The results have also been well-presented. Finally, the study findings are well-interpreted in the discussion. I congratulate the authors for their endeavours.

With best regards,

Gyanesh Kumar Tiwari
