

Review of: "Cruises Italian Tourism: Scenarios and Trends After Global Pandemic — The MSC Case"

Massimo Clemente¹

¹ Italian National Research Council

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper "Italian Cruise Tourism: Scenarios and Trends after the Global Pandemic - The MSC Case" communicates its purpose, which is to explore the challenges the cruise tourism industry is facing in responding to the twin challenges of post-pandemic recovery and sustainable development. However, it is advisable to conduct a thorough proofreading of the English text, ensuring a formal presentation with attention to repetitions and typos.

Below are some corrections that could improve the text:

-A revision of the abstract is recommended to ensure it fully reflects the research's content and objectives. Adjustments could enhance clarity and accuracy, presenting the research work more effectively.

-Sections 4 and 5 could be merged and incorporated as subsections within Section 3. This adjustment would improve the text's coherence and flow, enhancing readability for the reader.

-In the conclusion section, deeper consideration could be given to the knowledge advancements achieved through the analyzed research field. This addition would provide a more comprehensive overview of the research findings and their implications.