Although the topic is interesting, I suggest considering the following aspects:

1. The hybrid approach needs to be clarified as it can be interpreted in various ways.
2. The abstract should be organized systematically, specifying the objective, research method, results, and conclusions.
3. Highlight the research problem that is intended to be addressed.
4. There is a need for further investigation, supported by scientific findings. This will give relevance to the research.
5. I recommend incorporating more support from other researchers (bibliographic references).
