

Review of: "A Cointegrated Multi-Factor Semi-Log Regression Approach to Quarantine the Impact of Microfinance on Poverty Regionally"

Rebecca Gookool

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The conversation is relevant to the post-COVID economic environment as economies grapple to find non-traditional ways of sparking economic development among vulnerable groups.

The analytics are good, and the application of sound econometrics is appreciated.

Conclusions and lessons learned can and should be incorporated into policy justification for support of interventions such as microfinance.

There needs to be inclusion of overlap with the achievement of SDGs. This can be a useful addition to the conversation.
