

Review of: "Global Governance and Sustainable Development: Lessons from the COVID-19 Pandemic"

Andrea Borghini¹

¹ University of Pisa

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article analyses the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on world governance systems. It does so by highlighting the contradictions of some policy-makers' choices, the risks for our democracies, and the limits of the capitalist system.

The text is well written and documented and presents a convincing methodology to support the theses.