

Review of: "The Effects of Polypropylene Wastes on the Compressive Strength of Grade 25 Concrete"

Ehsan Kashi¹

¹ Islamic Azad University, Shahrood

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In Fig. 2, please describe the reduction in 28 days curing compressive strength in the samples containing 10% PP. Also, the compressive strength of the samples containing 15% PP at 7 days of curing is higher than that at 14 and 21 days.