Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The introduction is short and only defines the objective at hand. I would like to see this section elongated and reference previous research papers that would set the base for the purpose it's intended for.
2. There is no literature review/related literature that would give us a bit more confidence that the author has read through all the relevant research that have been carried out in the past.
3. I like how the paper resolves around using Augmented Reality to enhance the learning aspects but there is no mention on how it has been used. There is no mention on what the experimental group was subjected to in terms of the things being mentioned in the procedure section.
4. It would be beneficial to add column heading on top of the table to get a better grasp on what the numbers represent.
5. The paper could do with a few images on how the setup was made, any particular devices etc they might have used for implementing Augmented Reality
6. The conclusive section could do with a few graphs for better visualization of the results.
