

Review of: "Exploring the Relationship Between Dietary Practices and Academic Performance of High School Students in Tamale Metropolis, Ghana"

Nadia Shabnam¹

¹ National University of Medical Sciences

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Investigate why dietary diversity significantly affects performance in English and social studies but not in mathematics and science. Examining cognitive or educational theories that could explain this selective impact might provide a more thorough understanding of your findings. The author employed an appropriate research design, along with effective statistical data processing and data collection tools. The sample of respondents is ample and consistent. I believe the article is of high quality and should be accepted for publication.