I would like to thank authors about this topic for research; it's a very important subject for study, clear and understandable for reading, but I have some notes:

1. There are a lot of repeated, unscientific words used in this research.
2. This review needs figures and tables to clarify the mechanism of action for the role of efflux pump system.
3. Please recheck the references, especially numbers (4,13,15 and18), and what is the correlation in this review?
4. Section 3.1 needs a specific determination about the exact name and function of these systems.
5. Section 4.3 needs more clarity and information about the names of these natural compounds that act as efflux pump inhibitors.
