

Review of: "Echocardiographic Changes in Prevalent Hemodialysis Population Based on Cardiac Symptomatology"

Ahmed Aljizeeri

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper discusses an important issue about the cardiovascular profile of patients undergoing HD for renal failure. Despite the small number, the data shows significant abnormalities among this population, mainly LVH and increased left atrial volume.

The paper highlights the need for systematic cardiac evaluation of these patients.