

Review of: "Sacred Plants and Their Miraculous or Healing Properties"

Yasmina Ouzid<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University M'Hamed Bougara of Boumerdes

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is interesting from the point of view of historical and ethnobotanical research, but there is a lack of synthesis in the scientific writing.

The use of tables would be useful for summarising data on plants, their various parts, and their therapeutic properties.

The introduction should be summarised and linked to the part that deals with the ritual, as there is sometimes repetition in the information given.

The discussion should be well structured and summarised, avoiding redundancy of scientific information.

Define the objective achieved in the conclusion, as well as the economic impact of these medicinal plants.