

Review of: "Connection Between Climate Change and Wildfires"

Giusy Fedele

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This paper addresses a critical issue within the context of climate change, specifically the connection between climate change and wildfires. While the review is well-written, it lacks robustness. Some of the cited articles are outdated, and the inclusion of supporting figures would strengthen the arguments discussed. Adding up-to-date statistics would also help substantiate the claims made. Expanding the citations and conducting a more critical analysis, supported by charts and data, would undoubtedly enhance the quality of the paper.