this paper is very interesting. It describes in a clear and detailed way the position of SIPMO on the problem of Medication-related osteonecrosis of the jaw (MRONJ). The paper can help the general dentist to deal with all the problems related to the prevention and treatment of these pathologies. In fact this position paper highlights the current research status and provides a new perspective on several debated aspects of MRONJ. It describes risk estimates, disease definition, diagnostic pathway, individual risk assessment, and the fundamental role of imaging in the diagnosis, classification, and management of MRONJ.

The SIPMO-SICMF expert panel focused on essential aspects useful for the healthcare providers and patients in order to deal with MRONJ.
