

Review of: "How Do Parents and Teachers Perceive Psychological Well-Being and Social Identity in Association With Students' Emergency E-learning?"

Preeta Hinduja¹

¹ Iqra University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Thorough revision is suggested as mentioned below

Topic and Research questions: The study needs to specify and align the research intentions with the research questions.

Introduction: Specify the rationale for the study.

Theoretical framework: I don't understand why the literature review and theoretical background are separated. The review of literature can be presented under the heading Theoretical background. And the research questions mentioned at the end of the section with the heading literature review can be shifted to the end of the Introduction part.

Method: What is the rationale for using a focus group in this study? Moreover, it is important to mention the year, time, and site of data collection. Research question no. 3 appears as if the data was collected during or soon after the pandemic. If the study intends to see the post-pandemic effects, then what is the intention of asking question 3?

Data Analysis: What about the validity of data? The missing components will make it difficult to rely on the findings generated by the inquiry.

Implications: The study reviews a variety of theories in the heading Theoretical framework. However, it does not represent the theoretical implications of the study.

Discussion: This part is written in quite a shallow manner. The write-up of the discussion needs critical insights. The discussion is an analysis of analysis that requires one to state the unique contribution of the study.

References: APA 7 references need to be followed. Most of the references are from studies conducted ten years ago. Not any reference from the last year is included.

Other: Grammar check is strictly recommended.