The author's approach is good

The introduction section doesn't include important information that gives readers the required aspects of the topic. However, the introduction should be summarized, and only the important parts must be discussed. The authors presented general information in this section.

Motivation, challenges, significance/implications need to be included.

Figures contain poor quality inside the artwork. They are originally poor; therefore, increasing the resolution will not solve the quality problem.

Needs to include performance analysis.

Author needs to discuss existing works.
