Invasive Lobular Breast Carcinoma

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Invasive Lobular Breast Carcinoma. NCI Thesaurus. Code C7950.

An infiltrating lobular adenocarcinoma of the breast. The malignant cells lack cohesion and are arranged individually or in a linear manner (Indian files), or as narrow trabeculae within the stroma. The malignant cells are usually smaller than those of ductal carcinoma, are less pleomorphic, and have fewer mitotic figures.
