

Review of: "Startup Project Development: Travel Schedule Management App “Triplanner”"

Kenan Karagul

Potential competing interests: The Triplanner project appears to be an intriguing and innovative proposition for the online tourism market. Emphasizing the implementation of Design Thinking method is crucial to capture consumer needs and desires. Additionally, conducting business analysis and marketing plans are of great importance to enhance user enthusiasm towards the features and improve the product's services.

The Triplanner project appears to be an intriguing and innovative proposition for the online tourism market. Emphasizing the implementation of Design Thinking method is crucial to capture consumer needs and desires. Additionally, conducting business analysis and marketing plans are of great importance to enhance user enthusiasm towards the features and improve the product's services.