I would like to recommend the author correct the overall grammatical mistakes in the abstract and introduction.

For example like in abstract and introduction the line:

In December 2019, another COVID was found in Wuhan, Hubei Province, China.

Another COVID means?

I think another pandemic or respiratory distress pandemic. These type of words better suit this line.

Secondly, Improve the English of the whole paper.

Third, the data was collected from health care workers or children of HCWs. Kindly clear this point...

Introduction needs modification about COVID-19 pandemic.

These corrections will make this manuscript suitable for publication after revision.
