

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Measurement of Left Ventricular Ejection Fraction

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Measurement of Left Ventricular Ejection Fraction. NCI Thesaurus. Code C37946.

A measure of how much blood the left ventricle of the heart pumps out with each contraction. With each beat, a normal heart ejects about one-half to two-thirds of the blood in its left chamber.