

Review of: "Perceptions and Experiences of Human Right Violations of People Living with Mental Illness: A multi-centre descriptive cross-sectional study in Nigeria"

Abhijit Pathak¹

¹ MIT-World Peace University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The arguments put forth in the article seem crucial in understanding the human rights of people with mental illness in Nigeria. The violations are also subjected to concepts revolving around illness due to cultural factors, which can be included in the current study. Apart from that, the authors, in a hurry, missed naming the questionnaire they have developed. I request that they name their questionnaire. The discussion is strong; however, limitations and future implications are needed at the end of the discussion and before the conclusion. All the very best to the contributors to the study.