

Review of: "Student's Well-being and Academic Performance: A Mixed-Methods Research"

Soledad Castro

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I see good changes in the manuscript, based on the previous review. A section on literature review, recommendations, and practical implications was included in the discussion. However, in my opinion, I would add a comparison of data from other investigations and, if they are not found, mention it.