Review of an article "There is high prevalence of overnutrition among married and cohabiting women in Nigeria: Findings from the 2018 Nigeria Demographic and Health Survey"

I consider the article may be accepted for publication with some minor corrections.

1. The title should be changed. I suggest: "The prevalence of ....."
2. The introduction is a little bit confusing. You should start with explaining to the readers what is the definition of overweight, obesity and overnutrition. Then, you may introduce your work, the previous work of other authors on the topic and the other information there.
3. The sentence "All the variables at the individual level were significantly associated with overweight at the bivariate level, except employment status and insurance." is ambiguous. It should be changed.
4. The Discussion part should include the limitations of the study.
