

Review of: "Traditional soap plants used in hand hygiene, can play an important role in curbing infectious diseases including COVID-19. So why is there so little research?"

Subhash Chandra

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Review for the manuscript entitled "Traditional soap plants used in hand hygiene, can play an important role in curbing infectious diseases including COVID-19".

In my opinion -

It is a well-written manuscript.

Methods are written explaining every step.

The Methods and results are well written.

The discussion and conclusion explain very well the outcomes of this manuscript.