

Review of: "How Blockchain Technology Can Address Circularity and Trace Emission in the Energy Sector"

Adrian Chun Minh Loy¹

¹ Monash University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I like the way the authors summarized all parts. Some suggestions for improvement:

1. Since it is about the energy sector, we should also underpin the importance of blockchain in aiding the conventional fossil fuel sectors.
2. Also, the adoption of blockchain in accelerating pre-screening energy storage or conversion materials should be elucidated.
3. Blockchain can help in IP or invention disclosure of the new process in energy sector, more discussion should be given.