

Review of: "[Commentary] Recognising Physical and Mental Health Issues in Neurodivergent Females: Opinion Piece"

Senda Slama

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I would like to congratulate the authors for this engaging article.

The article highlights challenges faced by neurodivergent females in accessing appropriate healthcare. Despite a few sentences that need to be rephrased, the article is well-written. Also, it is necessary to put the reference of each table in front of the paragraph that belongs to it. I have some other remarks that I mentioned in an attached file.

Overall, I would highly recommend this article