

Peer Review

Review of: "When Ambition Overshadows Patients: Reflections on Three Pharmaceutical Leadership Personas and the Role of Integrity"

Muhammad Kamran Khan¹

1. Management Sciences, Virtual University of Pakistan, Pakistan

I appreciate the comprehensive amendments made in the manuscript, which have sufficiently dealt with all the potential issues in better methodological coherence, theoretical base, and practical explanation. The paper has become more coherent and transparent. I like the positive interaction with the feedback, and I am pleased that the edited version can be considered to be meeting the necessary standards of acceptance.

Declarations

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.