

Review of: "Historical Semiotics"

Mirosław Michał Sadowski<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> McGill University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The author proposes a rather interesting take in the question of historical semiotics. The article could still be improved, however:

General issues:

- lack of a comma after "i.e.";
- no information whether figures are adapted from somewhere or author's creation;
- there should not be any lists in a research paper, rather they should be integrated into the text as (1) xxxx, (2) yyyy, etc.

Meritum

Following a scintillating introduction in which the author positions the question of historical semiotics vis-a-vis present-day issues in Germany, the rest of the article deals only with theoretical matters. A return to the practical, if not throughout the paper than at least in the conclusions, would greatly benefit the article,