

Open Peer Review on Qeios

N-Glycosylation Site

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. N-Glycosylation Site. NCI Thesaurus. Code C14051.

A glycosylation site is an amino acid residue within a peptide that accepts oligosaccharide via amide linkage, specifically through amide nitrogen of asparagine via N-acetylglucosamine, as one of the post-translational modifications.