Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article focuses on Entrepreneurial ecosystems in developing economies.

The focus is on agriculture system. This is a bit limiting as the work on sustainable entrepreneurial systems in a rural setting is a bit open ended. The literature review is done well but the focus on agriculture system is limiting. By definition this will leave a large and varied ecosystem.

The model is evolved well and the overall premise is well fleshed out. But more studies or specific in depth study is needed.
