

Review of: "An accuracy test of Altman and Zmijewski accounting-based bankruptcy models"

Jean Razafindravonona<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Antananarivo

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is very interesting but the author should add the following suggestion: 1. The author should specify the goal of the study 2. The author should mention the hypothesis for testing and indicate how to test the hypothesis 3. The author should calculate after running the 2 models the statistics on the level of accuracy of prediction, type I error and type II error 4. And indicate if gray case does exist 5. Add more literature review