

Review of: "Artificial Self- Awareness In Over Time"

Sanjay Mohapatra

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper is based on data, an empirical approach which can be the basis for future research work. While the paper discusses the relationship among time, memory, and artificial intelligence, it needs to give directions for practical implications (use cases would be of great help), recommendations, and the limitations of this study. On the whole, this is a good paper to reference.