

Review of: "Insights from models that specify elementary particles, dark matter, and properties of objects and fields"

Dr. Ahmed Najim Abdullah¹

¹ University of Baghdad

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Generally, the paper entitled "Insights from models that specify elementary particles, dark matter, and properties of objects and fields" is interesting and readable, where the author writes in a clear manner, revealing and comparing different modeling approaches. I therefore recommend the publication of the paper.