Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The abstract is not complete. It's essential to present a summary of the introduction, the aims, the methodology, some results, conclusions, and recommendations.

The introduction needs to display the state of the art of the problem, in addition to the justifications for carrying out the research.

The author must consider adding more current bibliographies.

The methodologies must be clearly well described.

Conclusions and recommendations can be in an unic chapter.
