

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Gonadotropin-Releasing Hormone Receptor

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Gonadotropin-Releasing Hormone Receptor. NCI Thesaurus. Code C38910.

Gonadotropin-releasing hormone receptor (328 aa, ~38 kDa) is encoded by the human GNRHR gene. This protein is involved in the regulation of pituitary hormone release and G protein-coupled receptor signaling.