This is a great program conducted by the institution. The collaboration between the two companies and the institutions describes a successful partnership that enhances the quality of work of the receiving organization.

The success of the program can be highlighted further in this article by establishing the problem of the two organizations and how the institution was able to improve the condition of everybody involved. In Table 1 of this article, we could add another column describing the identified problem and what solution was provided to address the issue. The Type of Program was indicated but it could be clearer to indicate the problem in the table.

May I also suggest including any assessments of these programs, to enhance the impact of the activity conducted?

You may consider adding the research methods used, literature reviews, and theories related to the topic.
