I have reviewed the article. Below are my comments:

The research questions are in line with the write-up. Also, the abstract summarizes the research findings concisely.

There is a need for the author to specify the kind of qualitative data examined, as indicated under specific Aim 2.

As opposed to "target" (Yuan et al., 2014), is incomplete; refer to specific Aim 3.

The first paragraph under the results section should be included under the methods section.

The author should include the total number of articles reviewed.
